

Colvert-Chapline Entertainment.

A social affair that tempted many of Marshall's social world to attend was the reception given Tuesday by Mesdames James Colvert and Schooling Chapline at the handsome home of the latter on English avenue. Both ladies are charming in the role of hostess and the receiving hours from 2 to 3:30 and from 3:30 to 5:30 passed swiftly amid surroundings most charming. The drawing room and parlors were prettily trimmed with vines and the usual amount of growing plants. Mesdames Chapline and Colvert were assisted in receiving by Mesdames C. M. Buckner, E. R. Pemberton, J. P. Huston, Maurice Hagdorn and Abiel Leonard.

Little Misses Helen Chapline and Marguerite Schupp, dressed in pure white from head to foot, dispensed the hospitalities in the dressing-room on the second floor in a very creditable manner, while punch was served in the reception hall by two of Marshall's favorite young ladies, Misses Martha Rea and Fannie Kincaid.

Excellent music on mandolin and guitar was given by Charles Chapline and Warren Colvert. Mrs. T. M. Rainey favored the guests with a vocal solo, and last, but not least, was the instrumental solo by Mrs. Emilie Mayer, all of which was greatly enjoyed and added to the reception, as nothing can ever take the place of music upon such occasions.

In the dining room, where over one hundred persons were served with refreshments, the table and mantelpiece were most effectively trimmed in American Beauties.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Paul B. Moore of St. Charles and Mrs. Wilbur Johnson of Boonville.

House Party at Alma

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Goodwin at Alma, was thrown open Wednesday for the entertainment of a number of lady friends from Marshall, who were invited to spend the entire day.

The Goodwin home that is noted for its hospitality in the past, is one of those peculiarly pleasant places once visited is never forgotten.

The ladies who were included in the invitations, left Marshall on the early morning train, arriving in Alma in fine condition for the elegant four course breakfast, that was all the more enjoyed after their morning's trip. Lunch was served at 12 o'clock and the afternoon was spent in different games, music and a delightful social time.

An elaborate course dinner was served at 6 o'clock, which included all the delicacies of the season most temptingly served. The guests who returned to Marshall on the 9:45 C. & A. train in the evening felt they had been royally entertained and were as follows: Mesdames R. E. L. Smith, C. B. Goodwin, H. H. Downing, D. C. Gore, S. W. Armentrout, U. A. McBride, C. M. Buckner, William Pate and Mrs. May Orear.

Junior B. Y. P. U. Social.

The Junior Baptist Young People's Union was given a social Friday evening from 6 to 9 at the home of J. F. McCurdy on Eastwood, which was greatly enjoyed by about 50 little folks. The lawn, which is very beautiful at this season of the year, presented quite an animated appearance with so many happy children, who played various out-door games.

The league is flourishing under the direction of Miss Nannie Walker, who meets with the children every Sunday afternoon and instructs them upon some subject suitable to the occasion.

Refreshments of strawberries, ice-cream and cake were served in the dining-room, during which time music on the piano was given by Misses Laura Brice, Margaret Leonard and others, which was greatly enjoyed.

James Welsh Paralyzed.

James Welsh a prominent man of Mt. Leonard had a stroke of paralysis Saturday afternoon about five o'clock and has been in a very critical condition ever since.

Mr. Welsh is the father of Mrs. Joseph Hamill, of this city, who left Saturday afternoon for her father's bedside.

We understand from Dr. J. B. Wood that his condition was quite serious from the first, having been paralyzed through his entire left side. A telegram sent by M. P. Lyons to Joseph Hamill, reached him at Beaumont, Texas, and he returned at once to Mt. Leonard.

Board Meeting.

The School Board met as usual Monday night and transacted the regular routine business, paying bills, etc.

Prof. T. E. Spencer was re-elected as superintendent of the public schools for the coming year.

The following gentlemen, who compose the board, were all present: Dr. Ed Sharp, D. D. Duggins, Jake Van Dyke, R. E. Holloway, Harry Tucker and W. S. Newell.

Teachers Entertained.

Col. and Mrs. James Gordon entertained the teachers of the Christian Sunday school and a few other friends Saturday evening, in a most informal and delightful manner.

The presence of Mr. W. E. Woodson of St. Joe, an old Sabbath school teacher, was especially pleasant for those in attendance. Music was contributed by different ones and refreshments of strawberries, ice cream and cake were nicely served.

The guests were, W. E. Woodson, of St. Joe, Dr. J. W. Carter and wife, Rev. B. T. Wharton and wife, Dr. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Bettie Noble and Miss Louise Noble, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Holloway, Mrs. Vanstone, Misses May Ellis, May Gilpin, Ella Goodson, Florence Woodson and mother and Miss Aldulah McCulloh.

Bridal Party Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Eubank of East Arrow street entertained the bride and groom elect, Mr. James Milner, of Denver and Miss Annie Fishback of this city, at dinner Monday evening. The bride occupies very much the position of a daughter in the Eubank family, where she was governess for several years, during which time she greatly endeared herself to one and all. This last evening in Marshall spent amid surroundings most congenial and pleasant will be recalled with pleasure in after years.

The dinner was conspicuous for the daintiness of its service and was an elaborate spread.

The guests were, Mr. James Milner and Miss Annie Fishback, Mrs. Fishback, mother of the bride-elect, Clarence Fishback of Illinois and Harry Fishback of Marshall, Rev. B. T. Wharton and wife, Mrs. Emily Mitchell of Kansas City, N. C. Bishop and wife, John Eubank and daughter and Preston Eubank, of Slater.

Elected Principal of Louisiana School

Saturday's Globe Democrat contained the fact that Miss Elizabeth Wittaker of Marshall, Mo., had been elected principal of the Louisiana public schools for the ensuing year.

This is the third time Miss Whitaker has been elected to positions in the Louisiana schools since her sojourn in Marshall, where she has been closely identified with the Marshall schools for ten years, during which time she taught the 6th and 7th grades, after which she was promoted to the principalship of the west building, a position she held for two years and at present she is teacher of English.

Miss Whitaker's resignation has not yet been offered to the Marshall school board, but according to reports the salary will be so much more than the board here can afford to pay her, it is thought she will accept the position, which she is so well qualified to fill.

The board fully realize that it will be a difficult matter to fill Miss Whitaker's place in the school. She is one of the most accomplished and progressive teachers, as well as one of the most acceptable teachers to the patrons of the school, that have ever taught in Marshall and her resignation would be deeply regretted by the board and the citizens our city as well.
